

List of Authors

Fatai Abiodun Atanda is a graduate of Obafemi Awolowo University, Ile Ife, Nigeria in Accounting. He obtained Masters and Ph.D. degrees from the same university. He is a Fellow of The Institute of Chartered Accountants of Nigeria (ICAN) and an Associate member of the Chartered Institute of Taxation of Nigeria (ACTI). He is a seasoned academic and researcher in Sustainability Accounting; Finance (corporate, small and public); and Performance Management with over 20 research papers published in national and international journals. His teaching areas of interest are Cost and Management Accounting, Corporate Financial Management and Auditing/Forensic Accounting with over 15 years teaching experience. Dr. Atanda is currently a Senior Lecturer and the Acting Head, Department of Accounting, University of Ibadan, Nigeria.

Moruf Adebakin is Chief Lecturer, Business Administration, Yaba College of Technology, Lagos, Nigeria.

María Elena Brenllais is Professor at the School of Psychology of the Universidad Católica Argentina, and a Specialist in Virtual Learning Environments. Her specialty is methodology and psychometrics. Her research topics are the design and adaptation of psychological tests and studies about the psychological processing of time. She has published numerous scientific articles in local and international journals.

Emmanuel Innocents Edoun, is an academic at Tshwane School for Business and Society within the Tshwane University of Technology in South Africa. He Holds a PhD from the University of Witwatersrand in Johannesburg, South Africa. His focus area is in Public Sector Economics and Service delivery. He has published close to 75 papers in academic journals. He had also written a book and made contributions in book chapters. He has presented papers in conferences nationally and abroad.

Iyanu Oluwa Fanimokun studied Accounting at the Osun State University and Kwara State University, Nigeria. She started her career at Villanova Polytechnic Imesi-Ile in 2020, and moved to Dominion University, Ibadan, in 2021. She is currently running her Ph.D programme in Osun State University.

Rocío Giselle Fernández Da Lama is a PhD candidate of the National Council of Scientific and Technical Research at the Catholic University of Argentina. She has published in several psychology journals and participated as a speaker in national and international congresses. She is currently working on the impact of time perspective and decisional procrastination on psychosocial well-being, psychological distress and economic behavior.

Nurudeen Ibrahim is a Lecturer at the General Studies Department, Lagos State University of Science and Technology, Nigeria.

Arvind K. Jain Jain joined Concordia University in 1990 after having taught at Indiana, McGill, Michigan, and Dar-es-Salaam Universities. After his undergraduate degree at the Indian Institute of Technology, Bombay, he studied at Indian Institute of Science (Bangalore), Carnegie-Mellon (Pittsburgh) and obtained his PhD from the University of Michigan. Dr. Jain's current research interests include corruption and policy-makers' behavior during the financial crises. He has edited two volumes on corruption: Economics of Corruption (1998) and Political Economy of Corruption (2001) and written four other books. His past research papers dealing with corruption, agency theory and the debt crisis, capital flight, international lending decisions of banks, foreign debt and foreign trade of developing countries, microfinance and commodity futures markets have appeared in various academic journals. He has served on the editorial boards of several academic journals.

Abdulazeez Lawal, Ph.D., is the Former Rector of the Lagos State Polytechnic and Adjunct Professor of General Management at Pan Atlantic University, Lagos, Nigeria.

Giorgia Masili has been employed as Postdoctoral Researcher at the Department of Management and Law of Tor Vergata University of Rome, Italy, since 2020. She received her PhD in 2020 from the Carlo Bo University of Urbino on the role of Entrepreneurial Ecosystems in the internationalization process of Born Global companies. She spent six months as a visiting doctoral student at the Department of International Marketing at the Warsaw School of Economics (SGH) in 2018. Her current research focuses on Digital Transformation, Agile and Innovation Management, and Low-code and No-code Technologies. She is member of the Italian Society of Management (SIMA), British Academy of Management (BAM), and European Academy of Management (EURAM).

Thiye Naomi Kholofelo Maphosa is an MBA student who has completed her course work and dissertation. She is an employee in the South African Public Sector.

Francesco Mutignani is a PhD candidate in Global Studies at the Carlo Bo University of Urbino, Department of Economy, Society and Politics (DESP). He achieved his Master's degree in Business and Management at the same University. His research interests concern peripheral areas development strategies, focusing on the role of entrepreneurship and business network relationships.

Theophilus Ehidiamen Oamen has a first degree in Pharmacy from the University of Benin, a Master in Clinical Pharmacy from the University of Ibadan, a MBA in Operations Management and PhD MPhil in Pharmacy Administration both from Obafemi Awolowo University, Ife. Currently, he is concluding his PhD in Management at Texila American University. He is a Fellow of the West African Postgraduate College of Pharmacists. His research interests are behavioral economics, pharmacoeconomics, pharmaceutical marketing, and pharmacy management. He has published over 30 papers in high-impact journals such as the Journal of Pharmaceutical Health Services Research, Journal of Economics and Management, Journal of Interprofessional Care, Hospital Topics Journal, and African Journal of Health Economics.

Hameed Ojodu, Ph.D., is the Director of the Centre for Entrepreneurship Development and Skills Acquisition, Lagos State University of Science and Technology, Nigeria.

Olubunmi F. Osemene is Professor of Accounting at the University of Ilorin, Nigeria. She did her B.Sc Accounting programme at the Obafemi Awolowo University, and her graduate and doctoral studies in Accounting were carried out at the University of Ilorin. She also possesses a Master of Business Administration at Ladoke Akintola University of Technology, Nigeria. She is a chartered accountant and a Fellow of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Nigeria. She teaches Cost Accounting, Management Accounting, Environmental Accounting and Investigative and Forensic Accounting at the University of Ilorin. She has published in many scientific journals locally and internationally. Her research interests cut across management and cost accounting, sustainability accounting with special interests in social and environmental accounting.

Solly Pooe is a certified trainer and assessor with about 25 years of experience in education and training, management and administration. He holds a DBA degree from Tshwane University of Technology in Pretoria, South Africa.

Kuburat Salvador is Assistant Director of the Centre for Entrepreneurship Development and Skills Acquisition, Lagos State University of Science and Technology, Nigeria

Alessio Travasi is a PhD candidate in Global Studies at the Carlo Bo University of Urbino, Department of Economy, Society and Politics (DESP). After his Bachelor's degree in Economics and Management, he specialized in Marketing and International Business, earning two Master's degrees in International Marketing and Business Communication. His current research focuses mainly on international entrepreneurship and Born Global companies. In particular, he has focused on the role of digital technologies in shaping business models and internationalization processes of Born Global enterprises.