In Memoriam Professor Antonio Maturo

The Italian Journal of Pure and Applied Mathematics (IJPAM) unfortunately can no longer benefit from the precious collaboration of Professor Antonio Maturo, who passed away this year.

He was a very close friend of Professor Piergiulio Corsini, the founder of the Journal, and contributed greatly to IJPAM, not only as an Editorial Board member but also by organizing conferences at the Università degli Studi 'Gabriele D'Annunzio' Chieti-Pescara with the aim of giving more visibility to the Journal.

The entire Staff and the Editorial Board of IJPAM express their deep sorrow for this sad loss. In particular, Maria Antonietta Lepellere, Piergiulio Corsini and his family, Professor Maturo's son Fabrizio Maturo, Irina Cristea, Violeta Fotea, and Domenico Chillemi regret the loss of Professor Antonio Maturo, who was a great man of science. All those who knew him will always remember his scientific value and his human qualities.
